

Y-mAbs Announces Data to be Presented at 2020 ASCO Annual Meeting

May 13, 2020

NEW YORK, May 13, 2020 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Y-mAbs Therapeutics, Inc. (the "Company" or "Y-mAbs") (Nasdaq: YMAB) a late-stage clinical biopharmaceutical company focused on the development and commercialization of novel, antibody-based therapeutic products for the treatment of cancer is pleased to announce the acceptance of two poster presentations at the American Society of Clinical Oncology ("ASCO") Virtual Annual Meeting, taking place virtually from May 29, 2020 to June 2, 2020. The presentations were submitted by Jaume Mora, M.D., Ph.D. from SJD Barcelona Children's Hospital:

- The role of autologous stem-cell transplantation in high-risk neuroblastoma consolidated by anti-GD2 immunotherapy. Results of 2 consecutive studies in a single referral institution
- Naxitamab, a new generation anti-GD2 monoclonal antibody (mAb) for treatment of relapsed/ refractory high-risk neuroblastoma (HR-NB)

Researchers at MSK developed naxitamab, which is exclusively licensed by MSK to Y-mAbs. As a result of this licensing arrangement, MSK has institutional financial interests in the product.

About Y-mAbs

Y-mAbs is a late-stage clinical biopharmaceutical company focused on the development and commercialization of novel, antibody-based therapeutic products for the treatment of cancer. The Company has a broad and advanced product pipeline, including two pivotal-stage product candidates —naxitamab and omburtamab—which target tumors that express GD2 and B7-H3, respectively.

Forward-Looking Statements

Statements in this press release about future expectations, plans and prospects, as well as any other statements regarding matters that are not historical facts, may constitute "forward-looking statements" within the meaning of The Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Such statements include, but are not limited to, statements about our business model and development and commercialization plans; current and future clinical and pre-clinical studies and our research and development programs; regulatory, marketing and reimbursement approvals; rate and degree of market acceptance and clinical utility as well as pricing and reimbursement levels; retaining and hiring key employees; our commercialization, marketing and manufacturing capabilities and strategy; our intellectual property position and strategy; additional product candidates and technologies; collaborations or strategic partnerships and the potential benefits thereof; expectations related to the use of our cash and cash equivalents, and the need for, timing and amount of any future financing transaction; our financial performance, including our estimates regarding revenues, expenses, capital expenditure requirements; developments relating to our competitors and our industry; and other statements that are not historical facts.
